

Update to Fernald Preserve Master Plan Seeking Community Input

As a community asset, the Fernald Preserve fosters wildlife habitat and provides educational opportunities through environmental stewardship.

The U.S. Department of Energy Office of Legacy Management is partnering with a local planning consultant to update the Fernald Preserve Master Plan. You are invited to participate by answering the questions found on the survey posted at the following link: <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/FernaldPreserveMasterPlan>. This link will remain active through June 22, 2018.

While cleanup levels, remediation plans, and institutional controls will not change, the updated Master Plan will help guide future decisions related to the Fernald Preserve.

After the survey concludes follow-up workshops, as listed below, will be held to continue community engagement in the planning process.

Public Master Plan workshops will be conducted at the Fernald Preserve Visitors Center located at 7400 Willey Road, Hamilton, Ohio 45013.

1. June 13 – 7:00 p.m.
Community Master Plan Input Session
2. July 19 – 7:00 p.m.
Community Review of Master Plan Results
